Jul 29 2004 9:16AM

DotCommerce Romania, the Romanian branch of US DotCommerce, is the first e-commerce solutions integrator that entered the Romanian market last year, daily Bursa reports on July 21. Participants in the seminar on the development and trends in Romanian e-commerce, which was held on July 20, agreed that the main problem facing the Romanian market is the fact that Romanian consumers are not much aware of this system and are not firmly convinced of its results. DotAssure is the payment gateway solution provided by the company on the Romanian market. This solution can be implemented to already existing online shops and can be used by the companies that do not have a web site. Companies using this system can have an online shop, receive and process orders in only 48 hours. In Romania, e-commerce is fully functional, which is proved by three banks already using the system, meaning Ion Tiriac Bank, Raiffeisen and Banca Comerciala Romana. Since the beginning of the year, DotCommerce Romania has invested more than $400,000 in infrastructure and in the development of solutions and projects. As much as $1,800,000 have been invested in software solutions so far and some $500,000 more will be invested in logistics services and delivery.
